

Subject:	Brückenkurs (Propädeutik)
Course:	Einführung in SPSS (SPSS-Basics)
Professor in charge:	Dr. Thomas Krickhahn
Target group:	Students, who have a special interest in empirical research
Lectures:	1 hour per week during the semester
Aims:	Introduction to the empirical research in economics with the aid of SPSS
Content:	Construction of a questionnaire; Definition of the relevant population; Preparation of a data file in SPSS; Setting up a Codesheet for the questionnaire; Recording the data into the SPSS-file; Check the data; Analysis and Interpretation of the results
Methods:	Lectures, practical Exercises
Examination:	Basically no performance certification but under certain conditions a participation confirmation
Literature:	z.B. SPSS Base 10.0 User's Guide, Chicago 1999
Language:	German or if it is necessary English
Case studies:	Dataanalysis in the context of practical projects